

LOCAL NEWS.

To Advertisers.
Nearly four thousand copies of the Register are circulated among the floating population every day, besides the large number served to regular subscribers. Advertisers will take note accordingly.

The Shooting Case in Georgetown—Further Examination.
A further hearing in the case of Gilbert Vanderwerken, for shooting George Hill, Jun., was had before Justice Beaver yesterday afternoon. Messrs. James M. Carline and Hugh Caperton appearing for the defense.

Dr. Magruder, being sworn, testified to the condition of Mr. Hill, which he then regarded as very favorable, though fever might arise within the next twenty-four hours, he could not tell with what result. The wounded man had always possessed a remarkably strong constitution, and had been very little ill since the shooting. His nervous system had sustained a very severe shock from the occurrence of the previous day, but a very favorable reaction had since taken place, and he was as much improved as could be expected. At present there was nothing to indicate a fatal result.

Dr. Snyder testified to having seen Mr. Hill some fifteen or twenty minutes after the occurrence. There were three wounds. One was a mere abrasion of the skin on the back of the right hand. Another was on the left side of the abdomen, the ball running horizontally towards the hip, and passing out through the broad near the navel; whilst the other ball entered to the left of the spinal column, passing through the lower portion of the abdominal cavity. The exact extent of the injury sustained, would not be known until dissection had been made. Had it been slightly to the right of the direction of the wound, the kidneys were not injured, though it is possible the main portion of the colon may have been injured.

Sarah Oakes testified that she lives with Mr. Vanderwerken. Saw Mr. Hill come up to the third floor leading from the rear, and saw him there falling down. Immediately after, heard Mr. Vanderwerken call to his son to bring him his pistol. When the firing took place, witness was not in the room, but saw the first shot fired. When the first shot was fired, however, saw young Vanderwerken draw back, as if dodging the ball.

Charles H. Vanderwerken (son of the defendant) testified that he was in the upper part of the house at the time Hill made his appearance. Was in the habit of taking charge of the revolver. When his father called him, he came down with the revolver, one of which his father had in his pocket. Witness carried no pistol out of doors with him. When witness and his father first reached the area, the latter was directly in front of the door which prevented witness from seeing Hill. Just as the elder Vanderwerken stepped aside, however, Hill raised his revolver, and fired one load in the direction of witness, but without taking effect. Witness thinks the shot was intended for his father. Is positive that Hill fired the first shot. Witness being without a revolver, stepped quickly to the right after the first shot was fired, and does not know who fired the next shot, though there were several discharges in quick succession. At the time of the first discharge, Hill stood near a large post in the store, about six paces from witness.

Sergeant J. H. Newman (Metropolitan police) testified to seeing young Vanderwerken with a pistol in his hand, from which all the loads had been fired. Witness asked him to bring it to the magistrate's office, which he did. Witness also got a five-shooter from the elder Vanderwerken, every barrel of which was loaded, at the same time arresting him. Afterwards went to the house of Hill, where he obtained another revolver, from which he fired the shot which killed Hill. He then returned to the house, and the evidence closed here, and Mr. Vanderwerken was held to bail in the sum of $3,000 to answer at the next term of the Criminal Court.

The Police Commissioners' Conference.
The commissioners of the Metropolitan Police had another meeting at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, when all the members were present. The allowance for forage, shoeing, use of harness, and wear and tear of equipments, for the mounted police of the county, was fixed at $250 per annum for each man.

The following persons were designated for trial upon the Metropolitan Police, to fill existing vacancies:

Patrolmen—Fifth Precinct—Second Ward.
Alphonse P. Harremann, Michael Healy, and Henry C. De Scheele, in place of S. P. Robertson, R. H. Adams, and W. D. Edmondson, declined.

Sixth Precinct—Fourth Ward.
John W. Johnson, Elias Reynolds, Albert Brower, and Richard J. Beall, in place of J. Ward, J. B. Naylor, J. H. Seibert, and G. W. Edlin, declined.

Seventh Precinct—Third Ward.
William Grant, Alphonse T. Dunn, Charles W. Thompson, B. Johnston P. Morris, John P. Lynch, James McGowan, and Frank Miller, in place of T. J. Frasier, F. Feaster, J. H. Howitt, W. Bingham, and B. Hober, declined, and F. McGraw, and J. Shearer, declined.

Eighth Precinct—Fifth Ward.
Franklin H. Sage and Thomas Carragher, in place of W. H. Hamilton, declined, and G. Butterbaugh, declined.

Ninth Precinct—Sixth Ward.
Philip Harbin, Wm. H. Fuss, and Wm. Byrd, in place of G. W. Nokes, J. F. Cook, and J. Lusk, declined.

Tenth Precinct—Seventh Ward.
Jacob D. Hutton, James H. Barrow, Wm. Gibson, Chas. W. Harmon, and Chas. B. Ashton, in place of R. F. McGee, J. V. Dulin, W. T. Lenoir, J. B. Price, and T. J. Murphy, declined.

Eleventh Precinct—Eighth Ward.
John Middleton, in place of W. H. Hamilton, declined.

Twelfth Precinct—C. C. Clark, in place of G. W. Nokes, declined.

The persons who are named above for trial will present themselves to the Superintendent of Police at his office in the City Hall without delay, and take their oath of office.

Attended Burglary in Georgetown.
About five o'clock Monday afternoon, Mrs. Williamson, who resides at the corner of Gay and Green streets, Georgetown, discovered a man in one of the upper rooms of her house. The other members of the family, excepting the female servant, were all at the time. Without making any noise whatever, and feigning not to observe the presence of the burglar, Mrs. W. cautiously passed up to the door of the room, locked it, and then started out and gave the alarm. Officers Lipscomb, of the Metropolitan Police, and Deibel, of the old police force, were soon on the scene, and entered the room, discovered the intruder, and secured him in bed. He was arrested, taken to the guard-house, and gave his name as Thomas McGee. He is an Irishman, about 30 years of age, and is a discharged soldier of Company D, N. Y. 69th regiment. A large amount of money was found on his person, which he had secured whilst in the house. He was sent to jail for court, by Justice Beaver, yesterday morning.

Dead.
Mr. Charles Werner, so well known as a restaurant keeper, and night before last from injuries received by a horse several weeks since. The funeral will take place at three o'clock this afternoon, and will be attended by Capt. Geary's company of Kentucky Cavalry, of which he was a member at the time of his death.

It is rather a singular coincidence, that the favorite horse ridden by Mr. Werner got his leg broken below the knee, and died about the same time with his master.

Reviewing the Troops.
General McCallan and staff spent the entire day in Virginia yesterday. Several brigades were reviewed at Fort Blenheim by the general. Secretaries Seward and Cameron were also present during the day, accompanied by their families.

Sale of Condemned Horses.
A sale of condemned Government horses, took place, on Georgetown Heights, day before yesterday. The prices ranged from 37 1/2 cents to $10.

The Fun.
Still continues at Odd Fellows' Hall, where a still phony phony phony, the Campbell Minstrels, still hold complete sway. To who love fun, go.

BY TELEGRAPH.

IMPORTANT FROM MISSOURI.
ARRREST OF COLONEL F. P. BLAIR, JUN.—THE MISSOURI LEGISLATURE—MISSION OF CAPT. KIDD, OF THE REBELS—REIZURE OF A VESSEL.

St. Louis, September 17.—Gen. Sturgis, with a regiment of infantry, two companies of cavalry, and of artillery, took possession of St. Joseph on Friday last.

It is reported that there was a battle at Lexington, yesterday, between the Federal forces and Green's rebels, in which most of the latter were captured. The report, however, needs confirmation.

Another bridge has been burned along the line of the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad, precipitating the locomotive into the straits and killing the engineer.

St. Louis, September 17.—Reports are current here that the Confederate forces have evacuated Columbus, Ky.

St. Louis, September 16.—Colonel F. P. Blair, Jun., was ordered yesterday by the provost marshal to report himself under arrest, on a general charge of using disrespectful language when attending superior courts.

It is understood that the precise charge on which Colonel Blair was arrested is insubordination in communicating, while a military officer, with the authorities at Washington, making complaints against an acting marshal, and making complaints against an acting marshal, and making complaints against an acting marshal.

With reference to the removal of General Fremont, the Democrat this morning holds the following language:

"The removal of General Fremont, we do not think, has been seriously considered by the administration. Complaints have undoubtedly been made against him, and possibly charges properly investigated, but we have no reason to suppose that his removal from the department is seriously under consideration. His extraordinary energy and efficiency are highly appreciated by the Government, and the man and his measures are deeply seated in the affections of the people of the loyal States to admit the probabilities of any such event."

The Register learns that Colonel Marshall, when at Lexington, a few days ago, took possession of a quantity of property belonging to the State, including the books, papers, and arms of the State, which Col. Jackson took from Jefferson City. After the defeat of the State forces at Booneville by Gen. Lyon, Jackson publicly announced his intention to establish the capital at Lexington.

Postmaster-General for Washington this morning on Monday night last, while a Government steamer, name unknown, was conveying a large number of prisoners from Lexington to Fort Leavenworth, for better security, she broke her rudder, between the mill and Kansas City, and was obliged to land. Shortly after reaching shore, a company of Jackson county seceders, armed with revolvers, shot and secured some forty Federal soldiers as captives.

The following letter, which will be published tomorrow, reveals the mission of Captain Kidd, who arrived at St. Joseph with a flag of truce from the rebels' camp at Springfield.

HEADQUARTERS WESTERN DEPARTMENT.
Sept. 14, 1861.

Col. T. Taylor,
Commanding at Springfield:

Sir: Yours of the 8th inst., containing an erroneous construction of my proclamation of the 30th ult., has had my attention. I understand the object of your note to be to inquire whether it was my intention to shoot the rebels, or whether they might be made prisoners by the forces under my command. The following paragraph, extracted from my proclamation, will be strictly enforced within the lines prescribed against the class of offenders for whom it is intended:

"All persons who shall be taken with arms in their hands within these lines shall be tried by court martial, and, if found guilty, will be shot."

The lines are expressly declared to be those of the army in the military occupation of this State. You have, at this time, no authority, meaning of the proclamation. Without understanding to determine the condition of any man engaged in this rebellion, I desire it to be clearly understood that the proclamation is extended distinctly to recognize the usual rights of an open enemy in the field, and to be all respects strictly conformable with the usages of war.

St. Louis, September 16.—A special dispatch to the Register from St. Louis, Mo., says that the rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the result. The troops at Lexington were under the command of General Price, and were defeated. The rebel forces, under the command of General Price, at the head of the rebel forces, 600 men, attacked Lexington on Thursday; but we have no particulars of the battle, nor do we know the